Airport Concessionaire Mission Yogurt, Inc. to Offer Thanksgiving Meal for all Denver International Airport Employees, Continues Annual Charitable Donation to The Sam Sandos Christmas Basket Program

DENVER, Colo. – November 21, 2013 – Today, Denver-based airport concessionaire Mission Yogurt, Inc. announced plans to offer a full Thanksgiving dinner for all Denver International Airport (DIA) employees who will be working, and thus not with their families, on one of the busiest travel days of the year. The company also announced it has donated 2,100 turkeys and 500 chickens to Sam Sandos Christmas Basket Program.

The airport Thanksgiving Day meal will be presented to employees for $6, or for free, with a donation of any unwrapped toy for Denver International Airport's annual children's holiday party. It will be offered Thursday, Nov. 28, at Timberline Steaks & Grille in DIA's C Concourse, from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m.

The Sam Sandos Christmas Basket Program was formed in 1978 as means to provide local families facing hard times during the holiday season with assistance. It has since grown into a program that builds and delivers food baskets complete with a fresh poultry item and complete assortment of holiday trimmings to families in need. This will mark the fifth consecutive year Mission has contributed to the Denver-based charity.

"It is important to remember that the holiday season is not only about being thankful for your family and friends, but is also an opportunity to show the local community that they are not alone," says Mission Yogurt, Inc. president and owner Rod Tafoya. "We are thrilled to show our appreciation for the DIA workforce's commitment to their jobs with a delicious Thanksgiving meal, and are equally as thrilled to continue our chairitable donation the Sam Sandos Christmas Basket Program."
